

Franz Hohn (1915-1977)

Franz Edward Hohn received his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in 1940. After teaching at the Universities of Arizona and Maine and at Guilford College, he joined the University of Illinois faculty in 1948 and remained a valued member of the department of Mathematics until his death in 1977. Professor Hohn served as graduate supervisor for mathematics from 1968-1970 and was Associate Dean of the Graduate College from 1970-1972. He was a specialist in applied mathematics and automata theory and the author of a widely used textbook on elementary matrix algebra.

Math Genealogy Project:

<https://www.genealogy.math.ndsu.nodak.edu/id.php?id=4157>

Hohn Nash Scholarship:

<http://www.math.illinois.edu/GraduateProgram/hohn-nash-scholarship.html>